

Days Go By by Adam Smith

In this life I have plenty
And I'm grateful to many
Deities and people, flowers and creatures

And not saying anything is not the way to go
These things are sacred, as above below

So thank you for helping the days go by

In this life there is someone
To love and to get love from
And that person is you and me
And those people are everyone everywhere

And not saying something is not the way to go
This love blesses me, as above below

Thank you for helping the days go by....
